Dear Henry:

It was very thoughtful of you to send me a copy of Eden's Memoirs.

As you can well understand I have mixed feelings about certain parts of this particular book. I doubt whether the author's presentation of Suez will go down as "history".

Tragically, he is an embittered man and it might have been better if he had written his book at a later date.
In the early '30s I got to know him extremely well when we were together for many months in Geneva at the disarmament discussions during the League of Nations days. Then I had a high regard for him. He had many fine qualities. I always felt that his declining health and other personal problems had greatly affected his effectiveness during the late years. In any event I appreciate your thought in sending me the book and I have been reading it with interest.

Sincerely,

SIGNED
